CLIMATE CHANGE IS HERE.

NOW WHAT?

Join Berkeley Lab's Bill Collins, an internationally recognized expert in climate modeling and climate change science, in a conversation on what we know about climate change, how we know it, and what we can do about it.

Bring your questions!

FREE ADMISSION

Collins serves as the director for the Climate and Ecosystem Sciences Division in the Earth and Environmental Systems Area at Berkeley Lab. He is also the director of the Climate Readiness Institute, a multi-campus initiative to prepare the Bay Area for climate change.
